

OMIA Collaborative Symposia Series

Engendering Race & Class in a Globalizing World: Transnational Perspectives

Dr. Lisa Lowe

American Studies, Yale University
Comparative Literature, Ethnic Studies and Critical Gender Studies,
University of California - San Diego

“Metaphors of Globalization”

Wednesday, February 20, 2008

4:30 PM

Konover Auditorium, Dodd Center

Faculty & Student Focus Group discussion

Thursday, February 21, 2008

11:30 AM - 1:00 PM

Puerto Rican/Latin American Cultural Center - Student Union, 4th Floor

Dr. Joyce Hamilton Henry

African American Studies, Sociology and Psychology
University of Hartford

“Between Two Worlds: Issues of Race, Ethnicity and Identity”

Friday, March 21, 2008

4:30 PM

Konover Auditorium, Dodd Center

Faculty & Student Focus Group discussion

Friday, March 21, 2008

11:30 AM - 1:00 PM

The Rainbow Center, Student Union Room 403

Dr. Lawrence La Fountain-Stokes

American Cultures and Romance Languages & Literatures
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

“Translocas: Migration, Homosexuality, and Transvestism in Recent Puerto Rican Performance”

Tuesday, April 15, 2008

4:30 PM

Konover Auditorium, Dodd Center

Faculty & Student Focus Group discussion

Wednesday April 16, 2008

10:30 AM - 12:00 Noon

The Women's Center, Student Union Room 421

For more information on these events and speakers, please visit www.womens.studies.uconn.edu

Sponsored by: Center for Latin American & Caribbean Studies, the India Studies Program,
Institute for African-American Studies, Institute for Asian-American Studies, Institute for Puerto Rican & Latino Studies, the Women's Studies Program & the Office of the Vice Provost for Multicultural and International Affairs